

Trabajo de verano para los estudiantes del nivel IV

Honores

Learning a language is a lifelong journey enhanced by goals, openness to new experiences and cultures, and knowledge of your unlimited potential. It is made up of many possible directions and strategies they can be learned and implemented in numerous ways. Since every learned is different and has particular talents, needs and abilities in various combinations, she or he should choose, experiment, and develop individual learning approaches or plans from among the many strategies available.

The following selection of work are offered to help you broaden your language learning repertory and take charge of your own learning. These activities will build and prepare you for the next school year.

1. Listening is a primary and crucial language skill in that it determines comprehension and appropriate responses to achieve communication. At the IV Honors you must comprehend authentic material form the target language. This include tapes, radio and television broadcasts, videos and films. as well as authentic lecture and conversations in Spanish.

Tareas de escucha y comprensión.

Open a doc document and label it "trabajo de verano." Here, you will place pictures and dates of your completed summer work.

1. Every week you are going to go to this page and watch at least one current article. They all come with comprehension activities. When you complete them, take a picture on your phone to prove you did the work. Take a picture with your phone and place it with the date in your worksheet "trabajo de verano."

3.1 Practica Practica y Practica!

Make every opportunity you have a learning experience. If you go to places like Home Depot, Macy's, or other stores at the mall, you will find the opportunity to speak Spanish. Do not hesitate to do so. The more you do it, the better you will get. You will find out how much Spanish speaking people love to speak Spanish with "Americanos." You will also realize how much you are capable of saying. Do not worry about perfection; it comes with practices. If you do this activity, be sure you record it or take a picture with the person you spoke with.
